Desolation Follows the Combine's Invasion of Naugatuck.

SECURED THREE FACTORIES

Nearly Two Thousand Employees
Driven from Their Places.

ARE NOW IN A STATE OF WANT

Begging for Work of Any Kind,
Shopkeepers Become Bankrupt
and Men Who Are Employed Have Wages Cut.

The Journal yesterday told of the utter ruin of the thriving town of Naugatuck, Conn., by the Rubber Trust. It told of the prospering that once prevailed in Naugatuck and of how 2,500 persons out of a population of 1,000 were employed to leave their homes because the Rubber Trust took away the means of their earning a living. That Naugatuck is not the only town on which the blight of the Trust has fallen is shown by the following dispatch:

Naugatuck, Conn., March 10.—The Rubber Trust has brought nearly 2,000 men of this town to the verge of want. Four years ago Naugatuck, with its 7,000 people, was as prosperous as any town in New England. There was work for every one and all were paid good wages. Now all is changed, and instead of thousands of contented men being seen each morning on their way to work they are seen walking the streets looking for any trifling employment or making humble appeals to almost bankrupt shopkeepers to let them have food on credit. All this famine, suffering and misery had been laid at the door of the Rubber Trust.

All the people of Naugatuck four years ago were dependent upon three concerns for their daily bread. They were the Goodyear Metallic Rubber Shoe Company, the Goodyear India Rubber Glove Company and the Phoenix Glove Company.

Employed Thousands of Men.
The Goodyear Metallic Rubber Shoe Company gave employment to 2,000 men the year around and paid good wages. The two other concerns had 1,200 men in their employ and also paid good wages. For nearly half a century the factories had been in existence and were rightly regarded as the mainstay of the town.

Then the trust invaded this place and desolation quickly followed. It was four years ago that the largest factory here, that of the Goodyear Metallic Rubber Shoe Company, went into the hands of the trust. One-half the force—1,000 men—were discharged in order to limit production. Small savings were soon spent and 1,000 families began to suffer. The 1,000 men who were kept at work have had to stand a reduction of 12½ to 25 per cent in their wages, and are not employed full time. The weekly pay roll of the company before the trust got it was $35,000; now it is scarcely $5,000. The reduction in wages was made in the face of the fact that the price of goods was advanced from 25 to 40 per cent.

The Goodyear Rubber Glove Company and the Phoenix Glove Company stood out against the trust for a full year, and then they succumbed. The two concerns were merged into one, and of the 1,200 employees 700 have been discharged.

Hopeless Search for Work.

Some of the idle men left town, but most of them are still here, willing to do the meanest work, so that it gains them even the price of a meal. There being no money here shopkeepers began to fail, and bankrupts are common.

The manager of the Goodyear Metallic Rubber Shoe Company, A. D. Warner, said recently: "We are employing 1,000 men seven hours a day, although our normal force is 2,000. We are depressed simply because business is generally so depressed that there is nothing to do with our production."

A TIME-SAVING DEVICE.

Court of Appeals. Makes a Ruling Affecting Right of Appeal to It.

The Court of Appeals has just rendered a most important decision affecting the right of appeal to that court.

In May 1895 Casper Stapp, through his counsel, Messrs. Alfred and Charles Stecker, obtained a verdict in the Supreme Court against Valentine Lowery's Gambrians Brewing Company, for $1,500, from which judgment the company appealed to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court.

Messrs. Stecker made an application to the Court of Appeals to dismiss the appeal, on the ground that the Constitution providing that no appeal shall be taken in negligence cases, where the judgment was unanimous, it deprived the appellant of the right to be heard in the Court of Appeals. The Court, after consideration, denied this motion, but with leave to renew upon the Supreme Court annulling the order in this respect. Whereupon the Stecker attorneys applied to the Appellate Division for amendment of the record showing the verdict to be unanimous, which motion was granted. Thereupon they again made application to the Court of Appeals for a dismissal of the appeal. Yesterday the Court dismissed the appeal.

This decision will shorten much litigation, and will be a saving of at least from one to two years for litigants who are successful in negligence cases.

For Lavigne and McKeever.

As the result of the excellent showing made by Charles McKeever against George (Fitz) Lavigne in Philadelphia last Monday, Tom O'Brien, manager of the Broadway Athletic Club, has offered a $2,500 purse for a twenty-five round contest between these two lightweights. Sam Fitzpatrick has accepted on behalf of Lavigne and McKeever's manager is expected in town today to make the match. The date will probably be April 10. Negotiations are also being made for a match between Fitzpatrick, of Syracuse, and Jim Ryan, of Australia. The latter arrived in town on Tuesday and is willing to accept the terms offered for a twenty-round battle with his Antipodean namesake.

Cleveland, March 10.—Manager Tebanu yesterday signed Outfielder Sockalexis, formerly of the Holy Cross College team. The play is a full-blooded Indian, and is said to be a strong batter and fast fielder.

FOR THE AMERICA'S CUP.

Rumor That Charles Day Rose Will Challenge—Yachtsmen Here Are Sceptical.

The season for rumors of challenges for the America's Cup has arrived again, as is shown in a cable dispatch from London, which states: "There is reason to believe that if the new racing cutter being built for Charles Day Rose, of Penitence fame, proves successful in her contests with the Prince of Wales's Britannia and Emperor William's Meteor, Mr. Rose will issue a challenge for the America's Cup during the yachting season of 1898."

The yacht referred to is the one that Mr. Rose ordered from J. G. Fay & Sons, of Southampton, last July, for the purpose of racing against the Prince of Wales's big cutter. He at present owns the Satanita and Penitence, which won for him more

BUCHANAN SUIT ENDS.
Jury in the Case of the Doctor's Widow Against Mrs. Foster Instructed to Return Their Decision Today.

The suit of Mrs. Margaret P. Buchanan against Mrs. Kate M. Foster was given to the jury yesterday afternoon with instructions to return a sealed verdict this morning. When court convened yesterday General Tracy, counsel for Mrs. Buchanan, said that the plaintiff rested her case. It had been expected that Dr. Thomas F. Buchanan would be placed upon the stand by General Tracy, but he was not. Colonel James, for the Widow Foster, then made a motion to dismiss the action. This was denied and Colonel James said he would put no witnesses upon the stand, and began summing up.

Colonel James reviewed the case and brought out the unhappy domestic relations between the physician and his wife, and denied that Mrs. Foster was the cause of the separation. The counsel said the only question for the jury to decide was why the doctor left his home. Was it because Mrs. Foster tempted him, or did his wife's acts drive him from it?

General Tracy spoke for an hour and thirty-five minutes, denouncing Mrs. Foster and stating that the defence had not dared to place her upon the stand. He asked for the full amount of the damages. In his charge Judge Bonham said that if the jury believed that the doctor left his home on account of Mrs. Foster, the plaintiff was entitled to a verdict; otherwise, she was not entitled to it.

DIFFERED WITH THE JUDGES.
Close Finishes at Iron Hill and Twice the Crowd Thought the Officials Erred.

Philadelphia, March 10.—There was a vim and a dash about the finishes at Iron Hill today that was in startling contrast to those that have been furnished during the past month. The awarding of the fifth race to Pinwater was a case where nearly every one agreed the judges had erred. All through the homestretch Con Lucely and Pinwater were fighting out. It looked as if Con Lucely had won by a good head, but when the numbers were posted, it was seen that the verdict was in favor of the mare.

The last race furnished the other difference of opinion. Lizzie S. seemed to win a head, but the decision was in favor of Recover. The winner Recover was sold at auction early in the day for $10. At the same sale Dulce Lardone was sold for $200, Little Durditt for $50, Peggoity for $25 and Obstinato for $20.

Oracle cut himself while being warmed up for the fifth race and had to be withdrawn. As he was an odds-on favorite all bets were declared off and new prices quoted against the others.
